- M: Ms. Wheeler, I'm calling from Bernard Flooring. Unfortunately, we have to postpone your Tuesday appointment to have new carpet laid in your home. We're going to be understaffed for the next couple of days and won't be able to make it then. Thursday is the earliest we can come.
- W: That's going to be inconvenient for me, as I'll be busy on that day. Could you possibly do the work on Wednesday instead?
- M: No, we're fully booked on Wednesday as well. To make up for the inconvenience, though, I can take 15 percent off your final bill.
- W: OK. I'll make time on Thursday then.

Questions 35-37 refer to the following conversation.

33 캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: A group of investors will be stopping by the office in five days. While they're here, I want someone to give a presentation to them on our recent expansion into the South American market. Would you be willing to do that?
- W: Normally, I would be. However, my team is working on another assignment, which is due in a few days. Unfortunately, I won't have enough time to take on both tasks before the investors arrive.
- M: Oh, that's right! I forgot you're conducting research for a financial analysis. Well, the presentation is more pressing than the analysis, so please prioritize that. You should work on the other assignment later.

Questions 38-40 refer to the following conversation.

34 미국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

- W: Hello. I have a reservation at your resort. My name is Wanda Fleming.
- M: Welcome to the Oasis Hotel. Let me check our database for your booking . . . That's odd. I don't see your name, Ms. Fleming.
- W: Really? I booked it on your Web site earlier in the day while I was in Boston. Here's the receipt.
- M: Hmm . . . yes, this looks accurate.
- W: Then, why isn't it on record?
- M: Did you receive any error messages when you made the booking? I really have no idea how this could have happened.
- W: No . . . nothing like that. I'm a little worried, since the room has already been charged to my card.
- M: I'll get my manager. This is an unusual case, so she'll have to help you. Just a moment.

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

35 캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: It's Mitchell Joyce calling. Is the consumer research report for Vector Shoes ready yet? I'll be consulting with the company's director tomorrow, and I'd like to show it to him.
- W: The report is nearly finished. I'm just waiting for some additional statistics from a colleague before I can finalize it. Everything will be completed by this afternoon.
- M: Great. It would be best if you could bring a hard copy of the final report to my assistant. He'll pass it on to me when I return to the office.
- W: OK. I'll get one to him no later than 3 o'clock.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

36 미국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

- W: My name is Rosmarie Devry and I am calling in regard to the dental assistant position you recently advertised. Is the job still available? I have over five years of relevant experience and would like to apply if it is.
- M: Yes, we are still trying to fill the position. We're asking all applicants to provide us with a cover letter and a copy of their résumé before May 14, which is the deadline for submissions. So, could you send those documents to me at jose12@parkerdental.com?
- W: Oh, good. Yes, I'll e-mail you those items later today. I'd appreciate it if you could notify me when you receive them.

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

37 영국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

- W: Hi. I recently bought a protective cover for my laptop computer on your Web site. However, I'd like to exchange it. The one I purchased is too small.
- M: So long as the item isn't damaged, we're happy to exchange it for you. However, you'll be charged for the extra shipping and handling fees related to your request.
- W: That's fine. I'm also hoping you can help me figure out which case will fit my computer.
- M: If you provide the brand name and model of your laptop, I can look up the proper item code. You can then use the code to search for the product on our Web site.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

38 미국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음 → 호주식 발음

- W: I really appreciate you two stopping to help me out.
- M1: Don't worry about it. We couldn't pass by knowing someone was stranded on the roadside.

M2: Now, what seems to be the problem with your car?

W: Well . . . I've got a flat tire, so I guess I'll have to call a tow truck.

M2: That's not necessary if you have a spare and a jack in the trunk.

W: I . . . um . . . I think I do. Let me see. Yeah, everything's good to go.

M1: In that case, we can help you change the tire. The replacement work shouldn't take us very long.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

30 영국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

W: Please stand over here and raise your arms. I need to take one final measurement for your jacket.

M: Certainly. But, before I forget . . . how much will everything cost?

W: About $75. However, if the jacket takes longer than two hours to alter, it'll be slightly more.

M: That seems a bit steep, but I suppose it's worth it for quality work. Oh . . . one last thing. When will the suit be ready?

W: I should be done altering it by next Tuesday.

M: That's actually convenient, since I need to consult with a customer in this neighborhood then anyway.

W: Great. Just note that we don't open until 11 A.M.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

30 캐나다식 발음 → 미국식 발음

W: I would be happy to do that, Mr. Gates. Most of my afternoons this week are free.

M: What about tomorrow? Could you meet me here at our headquarters on Larson Avenue at two?

W: That's fine. But before we meet, I suggest you take a look at our Web site. There are examples of menus we've prepared in the past as well as price lists. It should give you a better idea of what types of food we offer.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

30 캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

M: I just had a meeting with our restaurant manager. He said that all the staff working in the dining area will have to wear uniforms starting next month. What do you think about that?

W: Why not? Employees in other establishments wear them to look more presentable and organized. And think of the time it'll save us every morning. We won't have to figure out what to wear to work anymore.

M: You're probably right. It'll also be easier for customers to identify staff if we're all wearing the same type of clothing.

W: I just hope the uniforms aren't uncomfortable to wear.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation and table.

30 호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Excuse me. I'm in the market for a kitchen range. I have the dimensions of the space that the stove will fill with me, but I need help making a selection.

W: How wide do you need the device to be? And are there any specific features that you want the appliance to have?

M: Thirty inches. Plus, I'd like a built-in timer, a gas-powered cooktop and oven, and a stainless steel exterior.

W: Hmm . . . then, either the Brenmar or Flame is the best option. Other brands like Hegal and Anderson only come in larger sizes.

M: Also, my budget tops out at $1,800.

W: In that case, we've got just the model for you.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation and product manual.

30 영국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

W: Hello. I'm calling to express my dissatisfaction with a tent I purchased from your sporting goods store yesterday.

M: OK. I can assist you with that. What seems to be the problem?

W: Well, neither of the two largest poles came in the box. I have the other poles and pegs but am unable to assemble the tent.

M: I apologize for the inconvenience, ma'am. We'll gladly provide you with the missing parts if you bring your receipt to our shop within 30 days.

W: All right. I'll do that this afternoon, since my office is near the shopping center your store is in.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation and map.

30 미국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

W: I'm glad you've joined me at the Mint Gallery today. I'm a huge fan of the painter being featured here right now.

- M: Well, thanks for inviting me. Should we go buy our passes now?
- W: We don't have to. My company gave me a couple of free tickets for this event. Oh, by the way . . . where did you park?
- M: I couldn't find a spot on West Street, so I parked in front of the store on the corner of Lilac and Fern Street . . . the one closest to the gallery.
- W: But that's a no parking zone. There's a parking lot just down the street, um, next to the café. You should move your car there right away.

This is Gwen Stevens from Horizon Landscaping calling for Paul Carranza. We've come up with several proposals for the design of your building's courtyard. I would like to install a decorative fountain in the middle of the space. I also suggest planting a variety of flowers along the courtyard's main path.

That will make the space feel very relaxing. If you don't care for that idea, however, I have sketches of other possible designs as well. Could you call me back and let me know what would be a good time for us to meet and go through the proposals? Thank you for this opportunity, and I look forward to getting started.

So, please pick up a pair before heading to the factory floor. Also, we have an inspection on Friday, so make sure to report any equipment problems to the technical department as soon as possible. That way, they will have sufficient time to make repairs before the inspection takes place. Finally, please ensure that your work areas are tidy and in order before you go home today.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting.

Good afternoon, everyone. I just met with the customer service manager to discuss the response to our newest e-Book reader—the Universe Plus. It really took me by surprise. The Universe Plus is our most advanced model ever, so I thought it would be well received, but many customers complained that the screen is too dark and the operating system is too complicated. Not much can be done about the screen until the next annual release, but I think our team can fix the software problem. I'm going to e-mail all of you copies of the complaints now. I'd like you to look over them and think of a way to address the problem.

For the test session, we'll update your systems to Ledger Pro, and you will simply continue to perform your bookkeeping duties as you have in the past. If you come across any glitches or errors, just send us a quick e-mail. It's that simple.

Questions 98-100 refer to the following telephone message and order form.

㉓ 영국식 발음

Good morning. This is Glenda Brown from LMZ Investments. I need to change an order that I recently placed on your Web site. Christina Chine, the manager of our new office in Miami, just notified me that she will have a larger staff than planned. We have some extra desks that can be used, and we won't require additional cubicle partitions or file cabinets . . . but I need to double the number of seats. We'll need, uh, 30 in total. The accounting manager wants me to use a different company credit card to pay for the new charges, so please call me back for the number and expiration date. My contact details are included on the original order form. Thank you.
