Questions 32-34 refer to the following conversation.

32 미국식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Clarissa, are you attending the International Convention for Physicians in Australia this March?

W: Actually, not only am I going, but I'll also be presenting the study that I published in a medical journal six weeks ago.

M: Really? That's great! All of the lectures planned for the convention seem fascinating. I really want to go, but the hospital director gave me a project that needs to be finished soon.

Questions 35-37 refer to the following conversation.

33 호주식 발음 → 영국식 발음

M: Glenda, have you finished compiling the results of our customer surveys?

W: I've finished doing most of them, but I still need to add the results from our Asian office. I can give you what I've done, if you'd like.

M: OK. But I need to go through all the information before meeting the CEO tomorrow morning. Do you think you'll have the rest completed by this afternoon?

W: My assistant is out today, so I'm doing all the work by myself. I don't think it will be ready by then. But I'll probably have everything done by 7 o'clock and I can send the results to your e-mail.

Questions 38-40 refer to the following conversation.

34 호주식 발음 → 영국식 발음

M: Hello, Yolanda. I heard you just got back from a trip to South America. Did you find us any new clients?

W: Actually, I did. But it took a lot more bargaining than I thought it would. In the end, I only got six new contracts signed.

M: That's still good news. We only need a few of them to maintain our quota for now. In any case, we'll be sending out another sales team in January.

W: Good, I hope their negotiations work out better than mine. I'll get these contracts over to finance right now.

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

35 미국식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Our new bakery location in Brooklyn is not profitable enough. Do you have any ideas on how to promote the shop, Ms. Shah? You come highly recommended by a former client.

W: Well, I think it'd really benefit your business to make use of a social media page.

M: Hmm. But I'm not really sure how getting people to talk about the bakery online would help attract a wider customer base.

W: Well, you could offer discounts as rewards to people who follow your page once it launches.

M: I see. I think that would be helpful for retaining existing customers as well.

W: Yes. It's an excellent way to ensure customer loyalty.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

36 미국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

W: I heard the company plans to open another manufacturing plant in Indonesia to cut back on production costs.

M: That's what I was told too. But it will only be for the products we sell in Asia. I think it's a good idea, because it will also lower shipping costs if we manufacture our goods closer to where they will be sold.

W: I wonder who the company will choose to oversee the new factory. It's going to be a challenging job to manage such a large group of people.

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

37 미국식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Jena, have the cement trucks left for the downtown site? They were delayed yesterday, so I would like to make certain they get there on time today.

W: Unfortunately, there is a problem with a cement-mixing machine on one of the trucks. It will take about an hour to fix, but they should still be able to arrive on schedule.

M: Well, it's important that they arrive on time today as we really need the materials at the site. Could you call the drivers and remind them to be there by nine?

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

38 영국식 발음 → 미국식 발음

W: Tony, have you been able to reach the driver from the taxi service yet? I'm worried about getting to the airport on time. Mr. Amalu and his party are due to arrive in less than an hour.

M: Yes, Ms. Thompson. I've just spoken to him on the phone, and he said he's five minutes away. Is there anything else you'd like me to do?

W: Well, Mr. Amalu could turn out to be a valuable client. I was thinking perhaps you could arrange something to make him feel welcome.

M: Understood. I'll phone the hotel and have flowers and wine delivered to his room there.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

3회 호주식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: Oh, wow! Look, Jane. This salon is offering 20 percent off for first-time clients.
W: That's a great deal—plus, I really need a haircut anyway. Let's go in.
M: Well, there are a lot of people waiting in the seating area. We may need to give them a number to call us back on.
W: Oh, I don't have my phone on me, so could you tell them your number?
M: Sure. I'll go in and let them know. Do you want anything else done at the salon?
W: Hmm. Looks like they do manicures. See if they have any openings for one today.
M: You got it. Be right back.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

3회 미국식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: Ms. Compton, I'm so happy with the outstanding meal you prepared. I was wondering if you would be interested in catering our shareholders' meeting in December.
W: Thank you, Mr. Wilder. I'd be happy to, but I'm usually very busy around the holidays. I need to make sure that I'm not already booked. When exactly is your meeting?
M: We always host our annual meeting on the first Tuesday of the month at our headquarters in the city.
W: Most of the parties that I cater are on weekends, so that should work. I'll check my work calendar first and let you know.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

3회 미국식 발음 → 미국식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: Hello. I'm David from Speedy Way. You booked a truck to take your things over to Mulberry Avenue, right?
W1: Oh! You're ahead of schedule. My friend and I are still packing up. We weren't expecting you for another hour.
M: My other job today finished early. If you'd like, I can start putting things into my truck while you finish.
W2: That'd be great. We still have some fragile appliances to put in boxes.
M: Actually, I've got protective wrapping that'll work fine for them.
W1: Really? That'd sure help a lot.
W2: And I meant to ask . . . Should we pay you for the moving service now?

W1: Oh, right. I was wondering about that, too.

M: Let's just take care of that after we get to our destination. I think we should focus on getting everything in my vehicle for the time being.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation and graph.

3회 영국식 발음 → 미국식 발음

- W: Hi, Steve. How are the preparations going for the marketing seminar next Friday?
M: OK, I guess. But I'm a little disappointed. Fewer people signed up than I expected.
W: Really? Why don't I invite some of the other members of my team to participate, then? I'm sure they'll find your tips helpful.
M: I would really appreciate that. Let me know by this afternoon how many want to take part.
W: Sure. So, what are you going to focus on?
M: We'll explore strategies to promote underperforming products. I plan to use our camera model with the second worst sales record last month as a case study.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation and list.

3회 미국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

- W: Hi, Matt. This is Jennifer calling from the marketing department. I noticed that the phone in Conference Room D isn't working properly.
M: OK. Can you tell me about the problem in more detail?
W: The . . . um . . . the microphone doesn't detect sound when I speak into it.
M: I see. Well, actually, that machine had the same issue before. I think it's time to order a new one.
W: All right. It would be great if we could have the same phone model that we do now. Ah . . . It's a MediaSet 500.
M: Hmm . . . It looks like the supplier doesn't have that device in stock. But they have a newer version for the same price.
W: Oh, if that's the case, then the other option should be fine.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation and subway map.

3회 호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

- M: Hartfield Metro's Lost and Found Center. This is Gerald speaking.
W: Hello. I'm wondering if a wallet was found today. It's red with black trim.
M: Hmm. I don't see it here. Do you know when the wallet was lost?

W: I embarked at Newton Station at 3 P.M. and . . .
uh . . . I realized it was gone when I exited the train about 15 minutes later.

M: Did you? Then, it would be . . . uhm . . . Orion Station, right?

W: No, it was right after that station.

M: I see. I'll make a call there and check. Please let me know your phone number, and I'll be in touch
if I hear anything.

PART 4

Questions 71-73 refer to the following announcement.

30 호주식 발음

Attention everyone. We are now in front of the El Bahri Palace. As you all know, this residence is famous for both its history and fascinating architecture. The enormous palace was built more than 800 years ago and was the vacation home of the royal family. As you can see, the main building is still in wonderful condition. As we exit the coach and begin our tour, I just want to remind everyone to stay with the group. The palace complex is very large, so it is quite easy to get lost. We will now visit an exhibit hall where you can view numerous artifacts discovered by archaeologists on this site, and then tour the main building.

Thank you for coming to our first lecture session this morning. My name is Julie Barnett and I am going to discuss the importance of having a nutritious diet. I've worked as a dietician for the past 15 years and have come to understand that eating a large variety of foods is beneficial to our well-being. First, we are going to go through a list of vitamins and minerals that our bodies require to function properly. After that, I have put together a short video presentation on the fruits, vegetables, grains, and meats that contain these elements. Feel free to stop me at any time should you have any questions.

Questions 83-85 refer to the following talk.

Hello everyone, and welcome to this special career seminar for new college graduates. My name is Karen McBride, and I work as a career consultant for Global Workforce. Today I'm going to teach you how to apply for a job. First of all, make sure that your résumé contains up-to-date information about your past employers, educational background, and special skills. Second, it is very important that you research the companies you're applying to. This will give you an idea about what the companies do and how they function. Lastly, remember to dress to impress. It's essential for you to look presentable at an interview, as the image you project will be taken into account. Now, if you look at the image on the screen, it shows the main parts of a résumé.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following advertisement.

As you know, the city council has released strict guidelines on how West Valley businesses and residents should dispose of their trash beginning in August. It is very important to keep this in mind as fines will be imposed on those who do not comply with these new regulations. Now, let's turn our attention to Ms. Audrey Wagner, a public relations officer from the sanitation department. She's come to our firm to discuss everything that we need to know about recycling and waste segregation. Specifically, she'll be showing us how waste should be separated into different containers and how to determine which materials can and cannot be recycled. After the lecture, you'll all know what to do. And if you don't, Ms. Wagner will address any concerns you may have.

Thank you all for taking the time to learn about my company, Top Line. We specialize in producing computer software that is designed to help retail outlets of all types make sure their stock is always refilled promptly. Our programs are meant to be extremely user-friendly and, in fact, we were recently praised by Programmer Magazine for just that. And our newest product is no exception. Its . . . uhm . . . official marketing campaign will start in June, and it'll be available the following month. The software—called Stock Plus 1.0—will be replacing our oldest program even though that program remains our second-best seller. Now, please look to the screen behind me to see Stock Plus 1.0 in action.

This is Mary Dyer from Homer Industrials calling for Carl from Technical Solutions. I was really pleased with the assessment you did of our computer system on . . . uhm . . . Monday, in which you identified several malfunctioning servers. I'd like you to begin repairs as soon as possible, and I believe you said that you'd be available next Wednesday morning. Before you come, please be aware that our office layout is going to be changed. Our directory won't be updated for a few days, but my department—which is now on the fourth floor—will be moved to the third floor. You can just pick up a guest pass in the lobby by giving my name like you did last time. Thanks.

Welcome, team managers. As you know, you will all start training our newly hired interns this coming Monday, so I want to remind you of a few things. First, the interns will attend an orientation session led by the company's president on Monday morning in . . . uhm . . . Room 502. They will be provided with training handbooks then, but you should show up with your own personal copies for your reference. Also, please note a change to Tuesday's training schedule. The IT session has been moved to Room 505. This is because an accounting team meeting has been booked in that session's originally scheduled room from 3 o'clock. So, please be aware of that change to the schedules that were e-mailed to you.
