PART 3

Questions 32-34 refer to the following conversation.

 캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: Good morning. I don't have a reservation, but I would like to rent a car for a couple of days. Do you have anything available?
- W: We do. What size car are you looking for?
- M: Something spacious enough for four people. Also, is it possible to get a vehicle with a large trunk? We have quite a bit of luggage.
- W: Of course. The CX2 sedan seats five people comfortably and has plenty of storage space. If you're interested in that vehicle, we can begin filling out the necessary paperwork. I'll just need to see your credit card and driver's license in order to proceed.

Questions 35-37 refer to the following conversation.

 미국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

- W: Spectrum Color Services. This is Danielle, what can I do for you today?
- M: Hello, I was wondering if you could tell me how much you charge to paint a living room.
- W: That would depend on the size of the room and the type of paint you choose. If you can give me that information, I could provide you with an estimate.
- M: Well, I just want basic white paint, but I'm not certain about the size of the room. I'll go measure it right now and call you back in about 10 minutes.

 Questions 38-40 refer to the following conversation.

 호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

- M: Laura, these necklaces are very impressive. Do you plan to sell them at your friend's boutique like your other pieces?
- W: Yes. However, I feel as though my designs aren't getting enough attention. So, I'm considering sending in an application to attend this year's National Jewelry Expo to better advertise my work.
- M: That's a great idea. You could attract a lot of customers. Provided that you actually go . . .
- W: You think so? I'm still a bit hesitant. Operating a booth there can be expensive.
- M: Numerous people have used exposure from that event to help boost their businesses. I'm sure the same would happen for you.
- W: You're right . . . I'm gonna download the application form now and fill it out.

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

 영국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

- W: I'd like to discuss a recent assignment that you collaborated with the marketing team on.
- M: No problem. Is there something specific you'd like to discuss?
- W: Yes, there is. You included an incorrect location in this online advertisement. It states that there will be a sale at our Seattle branch on July 22. However, the sale is actually going to be at our Portland branch.
- M: Really? I'm so sorry about that! I must have missed that while proofreading the advertisement. I will make the necessary changes to the advertisement immediately.

 Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

 영국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음 → 미국식 발음

- W1: Hey, Randy. Doesn't your shift start at 9 o'clock?
- M: Yeah, I came in early this morning to unpack the Digi 5 game consoles. They just arrived, and we need to get them on the shelves.
- W1: I see. Here . . . I'll help.
- W2: Sorry to interrupt. I know we don't open for five more minutes, but some customers have already started to form a line at the door. They're here for the Digi 5.
- W1: I was going to keep stocking the shelves after we opened, but we'd better finish soon if people are lined up.
- M: Maybe one of us should ask Richard to give us a hand.
- W2: I can do that.
- M: Thanks. He should be in the storeroom.

 Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

 미국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

- W: Jeff, I'm worried our cinema branch in Westchester requires extra personnel to handle the summer movie season. This is the busiest time of the year.
- M: Yeah, the branch supervisor seems to think that's an important issue to address. He'd like three more people added to the evening shift.
- W: In that case, could you make a job posting? Just include some basic details of the position and the minimum qualifications required.
- M: Sure. I'll try to finish it before I break for lunch.
- W: That'd be ideal. I'll publish it on our company Web site later this afternoon.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

30 호주식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: Hello, I'm calling to reserve three tickets for the Wild Animals guided tour at Jungle Wonderland this coming Saturday. How much will that cost?
- W: It's $40 per person. The tour begins at 9 A.M. and will last two and a half hours.
- M: Hmm. That's higher than I had expected. Have your rates changed recently? My friend went on the same tour last month, and she said it cost $32 per person.
- W: She must have our Jungle Wonderland Annual Pass Card. Cardholders automatically receive a 20 percent discount on admission and tours in the wildlife preserve for a year.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

30 캐나다식 발음 → 미국식 발음

- M: Erin, I met up with our realtor a few hours ago. He showed me a vacant space that would be perfect for our recording studio.
- W: Was the unit in a building on Ferguson Avenue? If so, I received an e-mail from him about the vacancy last night.
- M: Yes, that's the one. The space has a very practical layout. Plus, there is enough room for a reception area and a private office. I was even introduced to the owner of the building, Janet Davidson. She was quite welcoming and professional.
- W: That sounds promising. Would you arrange another showing for tomorrow? I'd like to see the property too.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

30 호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

- M: Have you loaded the scuba gear into the boat yet? We need enough equipment to take 10 people on a diving trip.
- W: Yeah, but I discovered a crack in one of the masks.
- M: Really? That's a problem since the other dive group has taken all the spare ones with them.
- W: Hmm . . . Splash World, the dive supply shop, is really close to here. If they have any in stock, I can go pick one up. Why don't you give them a call and see if they have what we need?
- M: Good idea! I'll get right on that. Only . . . do you know the store's phone number?
- W: No, but I bet Reggie does.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

30 영국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

- W: Hello. I'm in town for the medical equipment trade fair. Unfortunately, we have run out of brochures at our company's booth. I have everything you will need saved on this memory card and was wondering if I could get 300 copies printed today.

- M: I'm sorry, but our schedule is really busy. The soonest I could get them to you is tomorrow afternoon.
- W: Hmm. I think that's too late, as I need them as soon as possible. Are there any other print shops nearby?
- M: There aren't any others in this area. I'm afraid the closest one is on Dover Boulevard. You should take a taxi, though, as it closes in 30 minutes.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

30 호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음 → 영국식 발음

- M: I think I'm ready for a new cell phone. Do either of you have any recommendations?
- W1: My phone has worked out great—the ShockPhone 20. It's fast, and it has a modern design.
- M: I've heard that model's great, but it's out of my budget.
- W2: Mine's a PlusTouch 50. It's pretty basic, but it's only $190.
- M: The more cost-effective one sounds better. I'll purchase one at Harbor Cellular this weekend.
- W1: I heard that store is closed for renovations this month.
- W2: Looks like you'll have to go to Graystone Electronics instead. Fortunately, it's having a sale.
- M: Thanks for the information. I wasn't aware about Harbor's closing.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation and building directory.

30 영국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

- W: Excuse me. I'm scheduled to meet with Harvey Pinkerton. However, the office listed for him on the directory here in the lobby is incorrect. I went up to the second floor, but someone else was using the office which the directory mentions.
- M: Oh, I'm very sorry for the inconvenience. Mr. Pinkerton is in another office, but the directory has yet to be updated. He should have told you about this.
- W: So it seems . . . Well, where is his new one?
- M: He's moved into Mr. Johnson's old office, which is down the hallway and to the right. Just beside Markus Swanson's office.
- W: OK, I'll head there now. Thanks.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation and coupon.

㉠ 호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Hi. My blender broke down, so I need help finding a replacement. Also, I wanna use this coupon for 15 percent off that I cut out of a local newspaper.

W: I'd be happy to assist you. Is there a particular model you are interested in?

M: I'm not sure, but I'd prefer not to spend more than $200 dollars. Do you have any suggestions?

W: Well, the Dicer 2 and the Total Blend are both in your price range, and they're made by PowerMix. The ChopMaster is Electrostar's most popular model . . . and the most expensive. It's over $400. But that company also sells the BlendPro, which is only $175.

PART 4

Questions 71-73 refer to the following advertisement.

㉠ 미국식 발음

Join us at the Suarez Performing Arts Center for a one-evening performance by world-renowned violinist Wan Cheol Shin. Mr. Shin will perform an evening of classical pieces and modern works accompanied by the San Bernardo Symphony Orchestra. Recordings of Mr. Shin's music will be available for purchase after the concert. Doors for the concert open at 7:20 P.M. tomorrow, April 9. For tickets and reservations, please call the box office at 555-7219. Don't miss out on your chance to see Wan Cheol Shin performing live. Make your reservations today!

Questions 74-76 refer to the following talk.

㉠ 영국식 발음

Good morning, and welcome to this seminar on European clothing trends. I will be your lecturer today. My name is Caroline LeGrand, and I head the design department at Tyler Sharp Apparel. I'm delighted to see such a large turnout here today, as I will be discussing a very interesting topic that affects everyone within the fashion industry. All of you were handed a copy of today's program, which outlines everything that will take place. The lecture should last about two hours and take us right into lunch at noon. Then, the afternoon session will get underway at 1 o'clock. For that segment, another fashion designer, Liv Holbein, will give a slide show presentation. OK, now let's begin.

Questions 77-79 refer to the following announcement.

㉠ 호주식 발음

Hello, everyone. Thank you all for coming to the grand reopening of the Norfield Planetarium. Upon entering the building today, you'll be pleased to see that the majority of its sections have been completely renovated. In particular, our exhibit hall has undergone considerable changes. It now features a variety of educational displays that you can interact with through touch screen technology. And to commemorate this special day, local astronomer Shane Donner will make a speech about his recent findings in his studies of outer space in Lecture Room B. However, that will be pushed back an hour later than planned . . . Mr. Donner is making preparations. In the meantime, please feel free to explore the facility.

Questions 80-82 refer to the following announcement.

㉠ 미국식 발음

I'd like to let everyone know that our paper shredder will be replaced tomorrow. A technician looked at it this morning, and it appears that there is a serious problem with the blades that cut the paper. Plus, it's old and out-of-date. So now is the perfect time to get a new one. If you need to shred anything before then, just use the one in the accounting department's office on the third floor. I think that's everything. Oh, hold on . . . we need someone to come in at 8 A.M. tomorrow to give the delivery person access to our office. Please let me know by 5 P.M. today if you wish to volunteer to do this.

Questions 83-85 refer to the following telephone message.

㉠ 캐나다식 발음

Hello. This is Tyrone Dyson calling from the city of Dallas's Department of Parks and Recreation. I received your message yesterday about possibly reserving the main room at the Pointer Park Community Center for a gathering on Saturday, September 2. Unfortunately, another group has already booked the space for that specific date you requested. However, I've contacted Dallas' other community center near Gleeson Park and was informed that they do have a space available at that time. If you are interested in booking that room, let me know. You can check out details and photos of the space by visiting www.dallasrecreation.gov. Thanks, and have a great day.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following talk.

My name is Samir Nasser, and I'm a consultant and motivational speaker. I've been invited here by your employer to speak about how developing strong communication skills can improve your work life. As telemarketers for a software company, your ability to communicate with customers is obviously an essential part of your job. It enables you to express your thoughts clearly and concisely, which will in turn improve clients' confidence in you. But communication skills are not only important when it comes to increasing sales. They're also crucial for fostering healthy work relationships. In fact, the number one cause of workplace conflict is poor communication. To help prevent such issues, I'd like us all to participate in some activities together aimed at strengthening interactions between colleagues.

Questions 89-91 refer to the following news report.

3번 영국식 발음

My name is Anita Busby, and you're tuned in to Channel 9 News. Today's top story is on Williamton's Citizen of the Year Award. This year's recipient is Maude Evans, owner of Gately Automotive Dealership right here in Williamton. Ms. Evans has been selected for the award in recognition of her charitable work in the Williamton community. Over the previous six months, she has devoted much of her personal time to collecting donations for Memorial Hospital, a local health care facility. Moreover, Ms. Evans is also raising money in hopes of helping to establish the city's first performing arts center. The award will be presented to Ms. Evans on September 22 at a dinner hosted by the Williamton City Council. The event will be attended by community leaders and city government officials.

Question 92-94 refer to the following telephone message and map.

3번 미국식 발음

Good morning, Richard. This is Sally. We need to find a new location for our department's Christmas party next month. I just called Golden China—the restaurant we discussed yesterday—but they said that 30 seats are not available on that day. They could accommodate us if we broke into smaller groups . . . but that's not really a good option. I was hoping you could call the new restaurant that opened on the corner of Jefferson Street and Parkinson Boulevard, right next to city hall. I heard they have a private dining room! I'd call them myself, but I'm headed to the airport now. With the party coming up in only three weeks, we need to make a reservation as soon as possible. Thanks.

Questions 95-97 refer to the following advertisement and price list.

It's that time of year again—Game Warehouse's

Summer Blowout Sale. Unlike in previous years, some sales items are discounted up to 70 percent and game systems are now included. If you're planning on purchasing a new system, then visit the Game Warehouse from July 20 until August 5. And if you make a purchase of $250 or more during this event, we will throw in a free gaming accessory worth up to $30 as a gift. Note that cables and adaptors for game consoles do not qualify as gifts for this promotion. Check out our Web site for more information about this event. We hope to see you soon!

Questions 98-100 refer to the following broadcast and schedule.

3번 캐나다식 발음

Welcome to Entertainment News. The organizer of the annual Calgary Music Festival has announced an interesting addition to the lineup of daily headliners. The press release from Lisa Gomez, who is in charge of booking acts, stated that international superstar DJ James Money will join his former partner Karl Slocum for the first time in over a decade at the festival. This is very exciting news for local music lovers. Viewers interested in attending should purchase tickets soon, as they are likely to sell out quickly. A pass for the entire festival costs $49, while tickets for individual concerts cost $30. And remember, half of the proceeds will be donated to a local orphanage, so you will be supporting a worthy cause while enjoying some great music.
